Benefit Scout™: Helping you find the right fit

Benefit Scout helps take the guess-work out of selecting products and coverage amounts

The image shows a computer monitor displaying the Benefit Scout questionnaire. The interface is clean and modern, with a white background and green accents. At the top, there are two green bars with white text and checkmarks, indicating completed steps: "I'm married with dependents." and "I'm 39 years old with earnings of $50,000. My spouse is 39 years old with earnings of $60,000." Below these is a section titled "Now let's talk about your savings" with a link "Why are we asking about this?". The main content area is divided into four sections, each with a green heading and a question: "Savings" (How much do you have in emergency savings?), "Retirement accounts" (How much do you have in retirement accounts?), "Stocks and bonds" (What is the current value of your stocks and bonds?), and "Other life insurance" (How much life insurance outside of work do you currently have?). Each section has radio button options for different ranges, with the selected option highlighted in green. At the bottom, there is a "Setting your family up for success" section with an icon of a family and a statistic: "37% of people like you increase their coverage as they age and have children to cover anything from paying off a mortgage, college for the kids, funeral expenses, or to meet future goals." Below this is a "Source" link. At the very bottom of the screen, there are "Back" and "Continue" buttons on the left, and a "Get help" button with a magnifying glass icon on the right.
